Habeas Corpus---Important Decision of Judge Nelson---Military Commissions in Time of Peace Illegal.

The following abstract of an important decision by Judge Nelson, involving the validity of a conviction and sentence by a military commission in a case not properly within the cognizance of martial law, in condensed from the report in the Albany Argus:

In the matter of James Egan, a Prisoner in the Albany Penitentiary.—The petition and return to the writ of habeas corpus issued in this case present the following facts: The prisoner is a citizen, and by occupation a farmer, in the Lexington district of the State of South Carolina, some eighty years of age, and never engaged in the military service connected with the army of the United States or of the so-called Confederate States. He has been arrested and tried before a military commisions, in pursuance of orders issued at headquarters of the District of Western South Carolina, Columbia, upon a charge of murder, convicted and sentenced for life to the Albany penitentiary. The specification in the record of the crime is the killing of a negro boy by shooting him on or about the 24th of September, 1865. The trial took place on the 20th of November, and the sentence was pronounced on the 1st of December following. The sentence is approved by the order of Brevet Major-General A. Ames, and also of Major General D. E. Sickles. The only paper of evidence before us, on the turn to the writ of habeas corpus, is the record or order of committal in the hand of General Pilsbury, the Superintendent of the Penitentiary, which contains the above facts. Is will be observed that this trial before the military commission took place some seven months after the termination of hostilities and the surrender of the rebel army to the authorities of the United States; and, further, that the offence is one which, according to our constitutional system of government, is cognizable by the judicial authorities of the State and not of the Federal government. And, also, that the trial was not under the rules and articles of war as established by the United States, in Congress assembled, as these are limited to the government of the land or naval forces of the United States, and of the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger. The trial must have been had under what is known and denominated "martial law," and the question in the case is whether or not this conviction and punishment can be upheld by reason of that authority. All respectable writers and publicists agree in the definition of martial law—that it is neither more nor less that the will of the General who commands the army. Martial law is regulated by no known or established system or code of laws, as it is over and above all of them. The commander is the legislator, judge, and executioner. His order to the provost marshal is the beginning and the end of the trial and condemnation of the accused. There may be a hearing or not, at his will. If permitted, it may be before a drum-head court-martial, or the more formal board of a military commission; or both forms may be dispensed with, and the trial and condemnation equally legal, though not equally humane and judicious.

* * * * *

This being the nature and extraordinary character of martial law, which, as observed by Sir Mathew Hale, is not a law, but something indulged rather than allowed as law, all the authorities agree that it can be even indulged only in case of necessity; and when the necessity ceases martial law ceases. * * *

This necessity must be shown affirmatively by the party assuming to exercise this extraordinary and irregular power over the lives, liberty, and property of the citizen whenever called in question. * * * * * * *

Applying these principles to the case in hand, we think the record fails to show any power on the part of the military officer over the alleged crime therein stated, or jurisdiction of the military commission appointed by him to try the accused. No necessity for the exercise of this anomalous power is shown. For aught that appears, the civil local courts of the State of South Carolina were in the full exercise of their judicial functions at the time of this trial, and restored by the suppression of the rebellion some seven months previously, and by the revival of the laws and reorganization of the State government in obedience to and in conformity with its constitutional duties to the Federal Union. Indeed, long previous to this, a Provisional Governor had been appointed by the President, who is commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States (and whose will under martial law constituted the only rule of action), for the special purpose of changing the existing state of things and restoring civil government over the people. In pursuance of this appointment a new constitution had been formed, a Governor and Legislature elected under it, and the State in the full enjoyment, or entitled to the full enjoyment, of all her constitutional rights and privileges. The Constitution and laws of the Union were thereby acknowledged and obeyed, and were as authoritative and binding over the people of the State as in any other portion of the country. Indeed, the moment the rebellion was suppressed, and the Government growing out of it subverted, the ancient possession, authority, and laws resumed their accustomed sway, subject only to the new reorganization or the appointment of the proper officers to give them operation and effect. The reorganization and appointment of the public functionaries, which was under the superintendence and direction of the President, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the country, who as such had previously governed the people of the State from imperative necessity by force of martial law, had already taken place, and the necessity no longer existed. We have not deemed it necessary, if proper, to look into the merits of the offence charged against the prisoner, although it is insisted that it occurred in self-defence and in resisting a violent assault upon himself. Let the prisoner be discharged.

Even the negroes refuse to take the test oath! Think of that, and whistle it in radical ears. A colored man in Caswell county, N. C., being appointed a mail contractor, refused to take the oath, upon the ground that it did violence to his conscience, and compromised his self respect. He had been a friend to the Confederacy.—Danville (Va.) Times.

The Parkersburg (West Virginia) Gazette states that the Grand Jury of Upshur county, in that State, has found a bill of indictment gainst Mr. Taft, the editor of a conservative paper at Buckhannon, "for printing, posting and circulating a bill announcing a meeting of the friends of President Johnson at that place."

The Question Stated.

By a persistent effort the Radical and strait sect presses have succeeded, to some extent, in blinding the people to the real questions at issue between President Johnson and the Radicals. In order to intelligent action on the part of the people, it is important that these questions be frequently and fairly stated.

1. President Johnson assumes, and no one has successfully controverted his positions, that the States had no right to withdraw from the Union, that the attempt to produce disunion, either by secession, rebellion or revolution, was a failure, that, by consequence, disunion was not effected, and that the States were still in the Union and had never been out: That the rebellion or revolution simply suspended the operation of the Constitution and laws of the U. S: That the States could not commit treason, though the people of the States could and did, and that consequently the States must be restored to their former condition, by rescinding those organic or legislative acts, which were in violation of the laws and constitution of the United States, so that the authority of the government of the United States might be acknowledged and obeyed thoughout the States lately in revolt: Further, that this restoration must be effected by the agency of loyal men alone.—These views were in accordance with those of Mr. Lincoln, Mr. Seward, and every man North, who had a national reputation, unless we except the Greelys, the Beechers, the Wilsons, the Sumners, the Phillipses, the Stevenses, and men of that stamp. We have seen no clear or satisfactory refutation of the positions assumed by President Johnson in the above particulars.

2. The revolution, or "rebellion," having failed, the participants in it having been conquered and forced to an unconditional surrender, the national authority vested in the chief Executive in civil and military affairs; being the conqueror, he had the right to prescribe the conditions of surrender and the conquered parties must submit. By virtue of the authority vested in him, he proceeded to order the process of restoration on a plan which seemed to him free from difficulty. Conventions were to be called, and sanctioned by the loyal people, by the election of delegates who were to effect the restoration by the abrogation of all laws, organic or legislative, which had been passed in violation of the Constitution of the United States, and the adoption of the amendment to the U. S. Constitution and that of the State, abolishing slavery. But before the Convention could be elected by loyal men, composed of loyal delegates, all of them must be purged of the offence of "rebellion." Hence he issued his proclamation of amnesty and pardon, granting pardon and thereby asserting the loyalty of all thus pardoned.

3. Immediately upon the compliance of the Convention or people with the terms required by the conqueror, the Constitution and the laws of the United States began their sway over the lately revolted States. U. S. Courts were established, post offices and post routes were restored, custom houses and officers appointed and assessors and collectors assigned to each district for the collection of taxes. The civil authority of the Governors of the States, the restoration of the civil apparatus of the State entire, is established and acknowledged by the President. In fine, the States are restored, the war is at an end, and the President, by proclamation, which has the force of law until abrogated, declares the States restored, removes the suspension of habeas corpus, and declares martial and military law for civilians entirely at an end.

4. The authority of President Johnson to do all this under the constitution, in his office of Military and Civil Chief Executive head of the nation, we think, will not be called in question by those who desire peace and early restoration.—This policy we have in every possible way sustained from the beginning to the present time. We defy those who assail our loyalty to find a jot or tittle of disaffection or opposition to the government or the President's policy. In what we have differed with the President in his policy or plan in carrying it out, we have ignored it, and cheerfully submitted to his authority in the premises. The charge made against us and the supporters of the President, by Radicals and strait-sect men, that we were willing to be restored to the Union only on our own terms, is utterly false and malicious. The friends of the President in the South have proposed no terms. They have honestly and loyally submitted to the terms imposed by the conqueror. The terms imposed by the constitutional Executive head of the nation they have accepted in good faith as their terms. If they have objected or shown a spirit of disaffection, it has not been by resisting what they believe to be unconstitutional laws passed by the Congress, but to the unconstitutional, rigorous and unjust measures proposed to be put upon us by the Radicals of Congress. Our remarks upon this point of the subject, we must defer.

Who are Disunionists?

The Democratic Convention of the State of Ohio, recently in session at Columbus, was largely attended, and the resolutions adopted upon the occasion were of the most conservative and national character. The Hon. A. G. Thurman presided, and we make the following extract from his patriotic address upon assuming the duties of the chair:

"We see eleven states that have laid down their arms, are obedient to the Constitution and the laws, and are anxious to resume the exercise of their constitutional rights, forcibly deprived of them, heavily taxed without representation and ruled by laws in the making of which they have not the slightest voice. And this done by a party that calls itself Union and Republican. Pray, gentlemen, if this be Union what is disunion? if this be Republican what is despotism? Did ever any one hear English rule over Ireland, Austrian rule over Hungary, and Russian rule over Poland called republican? I fancy not—and yet wherein do they differ in principle from that rule which our Abolition so-called Congress exercises and is striving to consolidate over the Southern States? And who does not see that if the precedent be set and approved, of Congress excluding a State or States from representation, there never will be wanting a pretext for a like exclusion of any State obnoxious to a majority or the Congress, or whose representation would oppose a bar to the schemes of that majority or to the perpetuation of its power? If the representation of a State is to depend upon the will of Congress, instead of the provisions of the Constitution, of what use is the Constitution, or what vitality has our form of Government? What would have been said had the Congress, when the Hartford Convention was in session, and when Massachusetts forbade her militia to pass her own borders to defend the country, excluded the New England States from representation? What would the Sumners, and Wades, and Stevenses of that day have said to that? And yet there was just as much right to do so then, as there is to exclude the Southern States now—that is to say, there was and is no right of exclusion in either case. Let no man deceive himself, or be deceived by sophistry upon this question."

This presents the case in its true and proper aspects. The only "disunionists" now to be found, throughout the entire length and breadth of the land, are the Radicals of the North, and their few sympathizers, South. They are not simply theoretical disunionists, either, but the practical tendency of their course is revolutionary and destructive of the bonds of Union.

It will be found, upon examination, that the greater portion of the Southern Radicals are men who were disunionists years before the war,—who always preached the doctrine of secession and sought to educate the people to its support. It is impossible for them to unlearn the lessons of a lifetime. They were for disruption long before there was the necessity supposed to exist for it. They are for it now, practically and really, whatever their professions to the contrary.

PROPOSITION TO INCREASE TAXES.—Some member of the State Convention has introduced an ordinance creating the office of Lieutenant Governor in this State, and we regret to see that the Raleigh Sentinel is advocating its adoption. As the office of Lt. Governor will demand an additional expenditure of public money, it may justly be termed a proposition to increase taxes. The Sentinel argues that the additional expense will be but very little, and therefore the office ought to be created. "Little additional" expenses added on now and then is the cause of present high taxes, and we think it time to stop adding on another dollar.—Charlotte Democrat.

"We regret to see" that our friend of the Democrat is opposing so many measures of manifest utility, because, now and then, a very "little additional" expense may be involved. While we should be exceedingly careful, at the present time, in augmenting the expenses of the State government, we should not reject propositions that look to the benefit of the State, merely because an insignificant addition may thereby be made to the demands on the Treasury.

In the matter of the Lieut. Governorship, no extra expense will be involved, though our article upon the subject, we confess, was calculated to mislead the Democrat. Indeed, at the time, we were not acquainted with the details of the bill proposing to create the office. It simply provides that the Lieutenant Governor shall receive the per diem of the Speaker of the House, and that only during the session of the Legislature.

The Convention, on yesterday, we are glad to see, finally passed the bill, so that it is now a part of the Constitution, and the people, in August next, will be called upon to elect a Leiutenant-Governor.

The True Doctrine.

"The worthy President, in his introductory speech to the Convention, at its last session, declared that "we are going home." A distinguished member present, turning to another, said:—"Wrong, wrong, we have always been there."—Your correspondent is incapable of appreciating the sentiment of either; for, after so many efforts to get there, he feels as if the only true way of accomplishing that object is to confine our action to improving our own State—regulate wisely its organic law; cultivate fraternal feelings with both sections; bury all past feuds; be not too hasty in begging for further favors; and, above all, never to lose our self-respect, and surrender our honor, merely to get our members elect to seats in Congress."

This is the genuine spirit. Denied our rights by Congress,—shut out from the national avenues to recuperation,—let us turn to the development of our internal resources and capabilities. So long as the Radical fury lasts, we can possess our souls in what patience we may,—waiting for the dawning of a better time. "Above all, never let us lose our self-respect, and surrender our honor, merely to get our members elect to seats in Congress."

The merciless way in which the Sentinel is quoting the Standard of 1863-4 against the Standard of 1865-6, exposes the former to prosecution under the act prohibiting cruelty to animals.

Nothing was wanted to complete the likeness between Holden and Brownlow, except a little ribaldry on the part of the former—the last Standard supplies this. He is giving over his enemies to the devil "in King Cambyses vein."—Pet. Index.

STATE CONVENTION.

ADJOURNED SESSION.

TUESDAY, June 5th., 1866.

The Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock, A. M.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Ferebee introduced a resolution that a committee of five be appointed to inquire whether the objects for which this Convention was called have not been accomplished, and that they report a resolution fixing a time for adjournment.

Mr. Walkup, an ordinance extending the time for perfecting titles to land sold for taxes.

Mr. Grissom, an ordinance concerning Wills.

Mr. Phillips, a resolution to raise a committee to inquire as to the expediency of lighting the Capitol with gas. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Grissom, the Convention took up the ordinance to amend the stay law—reported from the Select committee on that subject for a similar ordinance referred to them.—Mr. Grissom said that the ordinance had been erroneously printed in some respects and proposed sundry amendments.

Mr. Phillips moved that the ordinance be re committed. The subject was one of prime importance. The committee was now proposing amendments to its own ordinance. It would be better to have the views of the Committee fully presented.

Mr. Ferebee said he thought the motion of the delegate from Orange a very proper one.—The stay law passed by the last Legislature is worse for the debtor than the laws for the same object passed by any of the other Southern States. Something must be done to alleviate the sufferings of the people, and there is no better time than the present to shape our legislation for this object. The country is exhausted, the people are without means to meet their liabilities, and if a little indulgence is not given them delegates may not be surprised to find, before the year closes, a state of feeling and excitement much to be deplored.

The ability of the farmer now, as compared with his ability before the emancipation of slavery, to pay his debts, is as one to ten; in other words, nine-tenths of his means are swept away. This state of things has been forced upon the people, their farms all laid waste, houses and fences burned, their stock driven off, and their labor taken from them. Time to repair this damage must be allowed. Forbearance must be exercised towards each other.—Delay now to act may be fatal, and injury may result, which it will be impossible to repair.—Add, also, the fact that we have an unreasonable Federal tax to pay which is, of itself, as heavy and burdensome as it is possible for the tax payer to bear, and, at the same time, subsist his family. We cannot yet see the time when the burden of this tax will be removed, probably not for several years. Mr. F. said the stay law is defective in many particulars, and unjust and oppressive in its provisions. The practical operation of the law is to excite, to provoke, to sueing. It makes creditors vie with each other to see which can get his judgment first. Those who are disposed to exercise mercy and forbearance are driven by this law to bring his suit for fear some other creditor may get the first lien on the property of the debtor. Suits for debt, therefore, will be without number after the first of July next, and a scene of confusion, excitement and oppression will follow, such as this generation has never witnessed. In the testimony of General Sheridan to the Committee of the House of Representatives, in regard to the condition of the people of the Gulf States, he remarks that in two years, the real estate in Louisiana will have changed hands, and will be held by Northern capitalists. Under this stay law, if its provisions are enforced, a similar state of things will take place here.

Mr. F. said he desired to have this law so amended as that it will, as its title proposes to do, afford protection and relief to the unfortunate debtor. For that reason he was decidedly in favor of referring this ordinance back to the committee, that they may perfect and report such amendments to the law as the exigencies of the times and the people demand.

The motion to recommit was then adopted.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, from the Committee to which was referred the substitute for article IV, except sections 3 and 4, of the Constitution, as reported by the Committee to revise the Constitution, reported he same back recommending its adoption.

On motion of Mr. Moore, of Wake, the substitute proposed for article IV, was first considered. This amendment establishes the office of Lieutenant Governor.

With a view to testing the sense of the Convention as to the establishment of this office, Mr. Moore, of Wake, (though decidedly in favor of creating the office) moved to strike out from the substitute the words "Lieutenant Governor."

Mr. Buxton addressed the Convention in opposition to this motion.

Mr. Conigland supported the motion. He opposed the creation of the office, because of its inutility and expense.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, withdrew his motion to strike out the words "Lieutenant Governor," and moved instead, that the section be adopted.

On this question the yeas and nays were ordered, on motion of Mr. Harris, of Rutherford.

The section was adopted by the following vote:

AYES.—Messrs. Adams, Alexander, Allen, Bagley, Baines, Baker, Barrow, Beam, Bell, Berry, Bingham, Boyden, Bradley, Brickell, Brooks, Bryan, Burgin, Buxton, Caldwell, of Burke, Caldwell, of Guilford, Clark, Dick, Dockey, Dockery, Eaton, Ellis, Faulkner, Ferebee, Furches, Gahagan, Garland, Garrett, Godwin, Harris, of Guilford, Harris, of Rutherford, Harrison, Haynes, Henry, Hodge, Jackson, Jones, of Davidson, Jones, of Henderson, Joyce, King, Lash, Logan, Love, of Chatham, Love, of J., McCauley, McCorkle, McKoy, of Sampson, McKay, of Harnett, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, McGehee, McIvor, N. A. McLean, Nat. McLean, McLaughlin, McRae, Mebane, Moore, of Chatham, Moore, of Wake, Murphy, Norfleet, Odom, Patterson, Pearsall, Perkins, Phillips, Polk, Richardson, Rumley, Russell, Rush, Settle, Simmons, Sloan, Smith, of Anson, Smith, of Johnston, Smith, of Wilkes, Spencer, of Hyde, Spencer, of Montgomery, Starbuck, Stephenson, Swan, Thompson, Walkup, Ward, Warren, Willey, Williams and Winston—94.

NAYS.—Messrs. Conigland, Cowper, Foy, Gilliam, Grissom, Johnston, Lyon, Person, Stewart, Winburne and Winston.—11.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, moved to amend the section of the substitute by striking out the word "native" before the word "citizen." Not agreed to.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, moved to amend by inserting after the word "years" in the same section, the words "immediately preceding the day of his election." Adopted.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, moved to amend by inserting after the word "citizen" the words "and resident." Adopted.

[Requires Governor and Lieutenant Governor to have been both citizens and residents of the State.]

Mr. Grissom moved to amend the same section by striking out so much of it as requires a property qualification of those officers.

Mr. Winston moved to amend the section by striking out the words "five hundred" before the word "dollars."

The question was first taken upon this amendment, which was adopted. [Reduces the value of the property qualification.]

The question recurring on the motion to strike out, a lengthy discussion ensued.

Messrs. Moore, of Wake, McKay, of Harnett, and Caldwell, of Guilford, opposed the amendment.

Messrs. Grissom, McCorkle, and Furches addressed the Convention in its favor.

The question recurring, the yeas and nays were ordered, on motion of Mr. Grissom.

The amendment was rejected as follows:

NAYS—Messrs. Adams, Alexander, Allen, Bagley, Baines, Barrow, Beam, Bell, Berry, Boyden, Bradley, Brickell, Brooks, Burgin, Buxton, Caldwell, of Burke, Caldwell, of Guilford, Conigland, Cowper, Dick, Dickey, Dockery, Eaton, Ellis, Ferebee, Foy, Garrett, Gilliam, Godwin, Harris, of Guilford, Hodge, Jackson, Johnston, Jones, of Davidson, Jones, of Rowan, Joyner, King, Lash, Love, of Chatham, Love, of Jackson, McCauley, McKay, of Harnett, McDonald, of Moore, McGehee, McIvor, N. A. McLean, Nat. McLean, McLaughlin, McRae, Mebane, Moore, of Chatham, Moore, of Wake, Murphy, Norfleet, Odom, Patterson, Pearsall, Perkins, Phillips, Polk, Russell, Rush, Simmons, Smith, of Anson, Spencer, of Hyde, Spencer, of Montgomery, Starbuck, Stephenson, Thompson, Walkup, Warren, Willey, Wilson, Winburne, and Winston—75.

AYES—Messrs. Baker, Bingham, Bryan, Clark, Faulkner, Furches, Gahagan, Garland, Grissom, Harris, of Rutherford, Harrison, Haynes, Henry, Jones, of Henderson, Joyce, Lyon, Logan, McCorkle, McDonald, of Chatham, Person, Richardson, Settle, Sloan, Smith, of Johnston, Smith, of Wilkes, Stewart, Swan, and Ward—28.

The Convention then adjourned until ten o'clock, to-morrow.

For the Sentinel.

Those who lived on May 23rd., 1866, and for several days thereafter, will not soon forget the editorial Jeremiad of that celebrated day, in the Tri-Weekly Standard. It was a day of terrible tribulation to our excellent Ex-Provisional Governor. "We confess that we are sick at heart," sobs out that stricken ex-dignitary. "For five long years we endured persecution at the hands of both Confederate and State governments.—We encountered perils by day and perils by night, and our name was cast out as evil on account of our Union principles." He was somewhat ailing as every body could see; and some kind hearted doctors thought it their duty to administer a little physic, which, instead of curing, as it would have done any reasonable patient, went the wrong way, and only made him the sicker. This was, by no means, the fault of the medicine. That was good, and kindly and gently administered. But when patients will be refractory, and struggle and try to spit out the dose in the doctor's face, they are obliged to be held by the throat, sometimes by the nose, and all for their own good.—Sick men are often very unreasonable—nearly crazy—and call things by the wrong names.—For example, the amiable Ex-P. G., in complaining that, for five long years, he endured persecution at the hands of both the Confederate and State governments, only means that, during those dreary years, he did not receive all the patronage at the disposal of those governments. They did not and would not pay him so much as he wanted. That's all. Neither government "persecuted" him in any other known way.—But that was bad enough—to him.

A squad of Georgia troops did throw his types into pi—while he went down that back way to call on his friend Governor Vance, when he found such excellent brandy. This visit of the Georgians seems to have been a God-send to this poor persecuted saint. It is thought he would not have missed it for millions. It was a persecution which he nursed sedulously for a long time afterwards. The air of affright, as he passed up and down Fayetteville Street, as if expecting Benning's Brigade might pounce down on him again, was observed and laughed at by every body. This was his peril by day. The perils by night were said to be still more alarming and awful. He appeared to have no particular sleeping place. The embryo Provisional had no where to lay his ambitions but aching head. Volcanoes were all around him by day and by night. The whole town was tittering at his feigned alarms, and he was laughing in his sleeve at what a good thing he would make of it, by and bye. In his heart he was blessing Benning's Brigade. He knew what comes of the blood of the martyrs. He already had his eye on the crown. And did he not get it, for once? True, our people did not aid at his coronation. And they never will. But he became Governor, and has been called His Excellency. Sancho Panza was a Governor, too, and was saluted with similar honor. But Sancho Panza with all his absurdities never published a list of five hundred pardoned rebels—just before an election, when they were not pardoned. Sancho was at least a man of honesty and truth. Sancho was also shrewd, and would have suspected that very many of these men, knowing the motive and despising the act, would vote the other way. God bless Sancho Panza and all honest people, Governors of all sorts included!

The Ex. P. G., in the same article of May 23rd, complains rather reproachfully in this wise: "We had a right to expect that under the old flag we should at least enjoy the privilege of expressing an opinion, without being assailed and maligned and held up to the odium of the people among whom we live." Certainly, beloved Ex, P. G. The Editor of a paper who always speaks and writes so courteously and kindly of his competitors, and generally of all those who are tainted with anti-straight-sectism, ought never to be "assailed or maligned." He ought never to be held up "to the odium of the people." Oh, no: He deserves very tender treatment. People should wear velvet gloves who would touch this gentle Shepherd. It would be great pity to hurt his feelings. He hath borne his honors so meekly, and hath so gracefully laid them aside, and betaken himself so quietly and with such patriotic and gentlemanly forbearance to his old vocation, and his temper is so subdued and saintly; he so carefully and cautiously eschews all imbroglios, such as would disturb the State while "going home," that he really must not be made "sick at heart" any more. Let him rest in peace!

There is, indeed, in the same article of May 23rd, a small and insignificant paragraph which does not, at first blush, seem exactly to accord with the above views. But it is certain that the malicious boys interpolated that, while he was gone to dinner. The gentle and gentlemanly Ex. P. G. did not say "every man of bad repute who holds secession principles—every foul, dissipated and traitorous whelp, who can bark or snap, is unearthed under the auspices of Governor Worth to pursue and worry us in the columns of the Sentinel, the Governor's organ, or in the other organs he has elsewhere in the State." It is certain he never wrote that. It would not at all consist with his own ardent desire to "enjoy the privilege of expressing his own opinions without being assailed and maligned and held up to the odium of the people." But the miserable reprobate, who surreptitiously inserted those words while the Ex. P. G. was at his dinner, desires to be severely rebuked.

"Shake not your gory locks at me,
Thou canst not say I did it!"

That's just what we are saying, dear Ex. P. G. It's those rascally boys, again—and they really do make you ridiculous, sometimes. Speaking of poetry, and good manners, and gentlemanly deportment, and all that, there are a couple of lines in the Universal Prayer, that the Ex. P. G., and other children, may do well to remember and sometimes repeat, when they say their prayers:

"That mercy I to others show,
That mercy show to me."

All good men must be sorry that the Ex. P. G. has been so badly treated—barked, snapped at, &c., when they learn that it is all "because honestly and faithfully and with tender consideration for this stricken, impoverished and ruined people, who still have and will have his warmest sympathies, he tried to carry out the President's plan of restoration." The Ex-Provisional knows very well that he is almost the only man in North Carolina who has any sympathy with this stricken, impoverished and ruined people—and that he also stands almost alone in trying to carry out the President's plan of restoration. All but himself, and some three or four thousand others, are doing their best to thwart it, and keep North Carolina's nose to the grindstone, and that's the reason he is so abominably persecuted.

He has cried himself almost to death, because he can't persuade these "foul, dissipated, traitorous whelps"—these disloyal snappers and barkers, into the support of the President's plan! And at last he has got so mad about it that he says "we do not want restoration with the heel of our enemies on our breasts. * * * And when we foresee from our sad experience what our fate would be if left alone in their hands." Let the alarmed Ex-P. G. dismiss his fears.—The army is not going to leave him to the tender mercies of those barking and snapping bull-dogs—for a good while yet. If he really desires and needs their protection, he will be sure to have it. But nobody wants to hurt him.—Fainting spirit! Soyez vous tranquille. Not a hair of your precious head shall be touched.—Uncle Toby was a good man, and has many children here. The world is wide enough for us all. North Carolina has had some queer children. But she is gentle and will forgive them all, even Ex-P. G. She charges her scattered family to return to her bosom and live in peace. And she will be obeyed or punish her refractory sons with many stripes. She demands that the dead past be buried. She knows well enough when one is too dead to be skinned, and will decently let him alone. His remains shall not be "touched scornfully," but thought of "mournfully, gently and humanly."

If the military only stay to protect our beloved Ex-P. G. and the few who feel as he does, their mission may be soon ended. North Carolina has a much better feeling for him, than her strange and wayward son seems to have for his impoverished and ruined mother. Y. Y.

Incidents of the War.

From "The Land we Love," (Gen. Hill's Magazine) we copy the following:

"At Malvern Hill a certain division drove the gunners away from a series of guns, but was too weak to hold its ground. The division commander, believing that a single additional regiment would enable him to hold the guns, rode to where he saw a body of men not under his command lying down awaiting orders, and briefly explained to them the state of things, and called for volunteers. A young man, with a chin as smooth as a girl's, stepped out and said: "I am here with a portion of the Twentieth North Carolina regiment; we all volunteer; we are ready to go anywhere and to perform any duty." That young man was Col. Henry K. Burgywn, and we feel confident that he expressed not merely the sentiment of his own heroic regiment, but of all the regiments then in service from his State. Colonel B—— was at that time a Lieutenant Colonel, and his extreme youth was thought to be an objection to promotion when a vacancy occurred. But upon this incident being mentioned to Mr. Davis, the promotion was made."

A South Carolina officer furnishes a tribute to a North Carolina soldier, which we must give in our own words, as his paper has been unfortunately misplaced.

"At the first battle of Fredericksburg, Ransom's North Carolina Brigade was ordered to reinforce Cobb at the celebrated stone wall, which Burnside, like Fremont and Shields, tried to capture, and with the same success. As soon as the brigade appeared, more than a division of the enemy opened a terrific fire upon it, and the batteries on the other side rained their shot and shell with the most deadly precision. The men were pushed with all rapidity to the precipice back of the wall, and then, without a moment's hesitation, they sprang down it to find shelter behind the wall. But a dignified mountaineer of the Twenty-fifth North Carolina regiment (Rutledge's) refused to run at all, and walked forward with the most leisurely indifference.—His hat blew off. He went back and picked it up. His knapsack, probably hit by a ball, fell off; he stooped down, re-adjusted it, and went on. He was now the solitary target for more than a thousand rifles; but this did not quicken his pace. When he reached the precipice, he determined not to risk the leap, preferring to slide down gently. He did slide down, but it was as a dead man he reached the bottom.—He was buried that night, and there was not an inch of his body which was not pierced by a ball."

COPY RIGHT SECURED.

"A Calendar for the Christian Era, combining the Julian and Gregorian modes of reckoning time, by James Rumley, of N. C.

The subscriber having copy-righted this most valuable of all the "Calendars" ever before offered to the public, will be prepared in a few days to supply the demand for them to any extent.

Many attempts have been made, from time to time, to secure a Calendar, by which all the dates of the Christian Era could be accurately, and at the same time readily, found. These attempts have heretofore signally failed because the authors have sought to condense too much, and because they were really not conversant with the subject of which they treated, and which they vainly endeavored to elucidate.

I claim for the Calendar now presented, perfect simplicity of arrangement, combined with the most infallible accuracy. The plan is so simple that any one who can use an ordinary Almanac, or Counting House Calendar, cannot fail to see clearly into the working of this. Time past, present or future can be immediately found. Its accuracy will bear the test of the most rigid scrutiny. I invite criticism, and confidently appeal to an enlightened public judgment for a frank expression of opinion as to its merits.

To supply a want long felt, the author has appended to the Calendar, under the head of "Explanatory Remarks," a succinct, but most valuable history of the Julian Calendar from the time of Julius Cæsar, and of the Astronomical causes which led to the change made by Pope Gregory XIII. in 1582. These notes alone are worth the price of the Calendar.

If any object to the space the Calendar occupies, the objection is answered by the reply that any attempt at condensation would be a sacrifice of simplicity, the fatal rock on which every previous attempt has been stranded.

Every professional man, every mechanic and farmer, all merchants and tradesmen should supply themselves with copies, at once. Price $1.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

TRIAL OF MAJOR JOHN H. GEE.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

FIFTY-SECOND DAY.

TUESDAY, May 22, 1866.

Dr. John Wilson, Alamance Co.,—Continued:

I had a guard of prisoners to police around the hospital. Their duties were additional to those performed in the ground and also to those done by the hospital attendants.

There was an impression, almost a conviction that the prisoners were to be sent away. Dr. Curry told me, that he had been told by the Surgeon General or Gen. Winder not to make any further requisition, that the prison would be shortly removed.

The federal government sent a supply of blankets and clothing about that time. I made a request for 100 coverlids.

Maj. Gee always assisted me cordially.

Those working were allowed double rations. My employes were prisoners of war. Some had the entire liberty of the town by Maj. Gee's permission.

On one occasion Maj. Gee expressed himself as saddened by the fact that men were dying every day and there was no one to speak to them of their condition. A Clergyman preached to them after that.

My office was adjoining his, and he seemed assiduous to do his duty. I can't recollect conversations with him, my impression is formed from observation of his general conduct. His manner was always kind toward prisoners of war.

[Requisition shown to witness in hospital records.]

That is in my hand-writing. I got a building for the gangrenous cases. This requisition was dated January 25th, 1865. The Surgeon made a diagnosis of each case and entered on hospital book.

I had a stock of disinfectants, but the weather was so cold that they were not needed. There was no stench from the sinks, except when standing in close proximity to them.

I had to apply once or twice to the quartermaster for straw. I succeeded, because I knew the man from whom it was obtained. It was used in the prison hospitals.

There were sink boxes in the hospitals. They were cleaned as necessity required.

The prison quartermaster furnished wood.—The supply was mainly sufficient—sometimes not so.

Major Gee was anxious to be relieved. I know it from personal conversation with him.

Lumber was so scarce, that I don't recollect getting a foot. I tried repeatedly to get a desk, but did not,—the reason assigned was a want of lumber.

I think that the mental condition of the prisoners was caused by their being sick, and that their depression of spirits reacted on their sickness.

I did not not notice that the news of the exchange affected the mortality.

I made a report of cases of each disease and deaths to Richmond, at the close of the month. I received my orders from E. H. White, who had charge of prisoners east of the Mississippi.

Maj. Gee did not have at his disposal any larger amount of quarters to furnish to the prisoners. I think about two-thirds out side of hospital were in tents. That was just an impression.

Dr. Curry's books and the hospital records were turned over to me. There were no orders making a difference between Surgeons at prisons and other Surgeons.

Cross-Examination.—The convicts were in the upper story of the big brick building; I think no prisoners of war were in that building.

Maj. Gee gave me a detail for the hospitals; I submitted no requisitions to him. It is my impression that he had no control over me; the question was not raised.

If the prisoners died from want of things I ought to have made a requisition for, and did not, I was responsible.

I got enough straw for the time. During the month they were well supplied.

The average of patients was about 600. I required no report of the sick outside. I ordered a report of the dead outside. I do not think they were full and accurate. If a man had been shot and killed, I think I would have heard of it.

Maj. Gee stated that his health was giving away, his duties arduous, inefficient subordinates, and he wished to be relieved.

Maj. Gee used all the horses in the prison for prisoners.

There were about 6,000 prisoners when I got there. There were a good many of the holes in the ground.

The hospital fund was not all used. I could not find provision to buy.

Kaufman was mentioned to me as a prisoner from Maryland. I made no reports to Maj. Gee except the number of deaths to the Clerk of the prison.

To Court:—The hospital supplies were not adequate when I went there.

Jno. A. Holt, Farmer, Salisbury.—One of the Commissioners of the town while the prisoners of war were there.

There were two memorials sent, to the Secretary of War, to have the prisoners sent away.—They stated the smallness of accommodation and scarcity of food, timber and water.

I understood that the answer to one was that they would be removed in a short time. Answer to the other was that they were doing all they could to relieve them, and some were to be sent to Georgia or South Carolina.

I think there was something said about North Carolina having to stand up to her share.

Maj. Gee seemed to be moving about doing all in his power. He spoke to me of not being undressed for three or four nights.

There was at one time a large number of prisoners in town.

Cross-Examination.—In the memorial they stated all the facts. The wooded country is some miles off. There was plenty of water in the creek. On the line of the Western Railroad there were, I think, two or three lumber mills. This memorial was sent because they thought the prisoners would suffer.

Re-Direct.—The scarcity of transportation was set forth in the memorial.

Jno. C. Palmer announces new and attractive articles in his line.

NEW MUSIC.—We are indebted to Oliver Ditson & Co., Publishers, 277 Washington St., Boston, for the following pieces of late music:

1. Afloat on the tide.
2. Softly the chimes are ringing.
3. Dear father, drink no more.
4. Early in the morning.
5. Leaves and Blossoms.
6. Golden Ray Polka.

TO DISABLED SOLDIERS.—The Charlotte Democrat announces that the unfortunate Soldiers, who lost limbs during the war, will be passed free over the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, to and from Raleigh, for the purpose of procuring Artificial Limbs.

We learn that Gov. Worth either has made, or is making, arrangements for an extension of the same privilege by the other Roads of the State.

During the session, the number of pupils was 244, from the following States, viz: North Carolina 116; Georgia 28; Virginia 13; Tennessee 12; Mississippi 10; South Carolina 9; Alabama 9; Arkansas 3; Texas 1; Salem, N. C. 43.

The Rev. Robt. DeSchweinitz, the deservedly popular and highly esteemed Principal, has resigned the Presidency, having accepted an appointment to take charge of an institution of learning in Pennsylvania.

Rev. Mr. Grunert, the newly-appointed President, is spoken of as a gentleman well qualified for the position, and will, no doubt, sustain the popularity of the Academy.

A new Post Office has been established in Johnston county, called "Mitchener's Depot," and E. R. Mosher appointed Postmaster. This office is on the North Carolina Railroad at Smithfield Station.

GENERAL NEWS.

Hon. A. H. Stuart publishes a letter in answer to the attack made on him by Senator Trumbull. It will be remembered that a man named Dewes sent on a memorial with 146 names to it, asking the return of the Federal soldiers to Augusta county, now confessed that these names were principally forgeries. But instead of turning upon the infamous persons who had committed forgery to prove a libel against his neighbors, he actually found sympathy in the Senate of the United States, and Mr. Stuart was roundly attacked for detecting him. To shield this "Union man" against "rebel persecution," his forgeries were put into his hands for him to put into the fire. Mr. Stuart says one of those who acknowledged that he signed the petition was a baker, who said he wanted the soldiers back to give him a market for his bread!

WHAT THE ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY IS TO RECEIVE FOR TRANSPORTING MONEY.—Gold coin and bullion is to be transported at one-half of a cent per mile for $1,000 for distances not over five hundred miles, and distances exceeding five hundred miles, one-quarter of a cent per mile per $1,000; silver coin and bullion at twice the rate above specified—freights on coin and bullion to be paid in coin; all other moneys, United States treasury notes, &c., twenty-five to fifty cents per $1,000, according to distance, &c.

WHAT IS FORT ERIE?—Fort Erie is no fort at all, any more than Fort Lee, on the Hudson, where a certain class of pleasure-seekers from this city go, of a summer's day, to get a breath of fresh air and a fine view. Fort—none is there, nor has been for the last fifty years; but a curious explorer of the locality easily finds the site of one which existed in the war of 1812.—No British soldiers were found there by the Fenians, not even a solitary sentinel.—New York World.

The new collector of the port of New York has commenced the removal of radical politicians from the custom-house. Several Union men who had been previously removed because they were too conservative have now been restored. A son of Senator Doolittle is one of the new appointees, it is said.

In a case which has just been tried at Savannah, Georgia, Judge Erskine has decided that the test oath, as applied to lawyers in the United States Court at Savannah, is repugnant to the Constitution of the United States.

THE GRAVES OF CONFEDERATE DEAD.—The ladies of Portsmouth, like those in Richmond, were engaged yesterday in decorating the graves of the Confederate dead with flowers. The day was pleasant and the gathering of the fair and the children with their baskets of flowers was large.—Norfolk Day Book.

MORE "CIVIL RIGHTS."—The New Haven Board of Education have voted to exclude negro children from the public schools of that city. Here is a case for Thad. & Co. Why don't they enforce their "Civil Rights?" That silly law seems to be a dead letter everywhere.

Governor Pierpoint has pardoned Elliott Gordon, a Yankee, convicted of horse-stealing in the Circuit Court of Petersburg last week.

There is an old negro in Danville one hundred and fifteen years old. He has smoked ever since he was ten years old, and, the Times says, has buried seventeen masters, who, we suppose, did not smoke.

MORE OF THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.—A bill is before Congress to extend that notorious system of fraud, slavery and corruption, called the Freedmen's Bureau, for two years more. In the appropriation bill for the present year twelve millions of dollars are bestowed upon this institution. Next year the sum will be fifteen millions and the year after it will be increased to twenty millions; for such gigantic abuses grow by what they feed upon. All this money must come from the pockets of Northern taxpayers. Strike out the twenty millions of dollars given to this Bureau for the benefit of indolent darkies and avaricious Yankee overseers and our taxes will be greatly lessened. Continue the Bureau for two years more and our taxes will be correspondingly increased. This practical view of the subject we recommend to Congressmen and to the constituents of Congressmen.—N. Y. Herald.

The Memphis correspondent of the New York Times attributes the recent negro riot to the radical element, which has complete control of that city. "The disfranchisement of the citizens of Memphis," we are told, "has resulted in the domination of a low and worthless class, with honorable exceptions, who are directly responsible for these disturbances, and whose chosen Mayor is even a yet more guilty particeps criminis."

An editor out West, who had served on a jury, says that he is so full of law that it is hard for him to keep from cheating somebody.

THE FENIAN FORAY!

EXCITING RUMORS!

THE AMERICAN CONSUL SHOT AT!

NEW YORK, June 5.

Montreal dispatches say that the authorities have reliable information that the Fenians are marching from Fairfield on St. Armands. A battle is hourly expected.

TORONTO, June 5.

The regulars and volunteers have been recalled from the front and will concentrate here. Thirty Fenians captured at Fort Erie have been brought here and will be probably tried by Court Martial and hung.

POTTSDAM, N. Y., June 5.

It is reported that Gen. Murphy will cross at St. Reiss or Cornwall with 4,000 Fenian infantry. Another column, it is said, will cross at Beauharnais, and Gen. Shear, with, 3,000 is to move from St. Albans on Phillipsburg and cut the Grand Trunk Railroad at St. John's Junction,—by which operation it is proposed to isolate Montreal from succor.

Sweeney will move, to-night, from Malone, and a battle is thought to be imminent.

BUFFALO, June 5.

It is said that two Fenian spies are to be shot this morning at Fort Erie.

On the arrival of the British at Fort Erie, the American Consul was shot at and grossly insulted by them, while in his house, with the flag unfurled over it. He has demanded an apology.

Sale of U. S. Treasury Gold.

WASHINGTON, June 6.

The Secretary of the Treasury reports that, since February, the Assistant Treasurer at New York has sold about $35,440,000 in gold, at an average of 1.30¼.

Cholera Raging at Quarantine.

NEW YORK, June 5.

Dr. Bissell reports the mortality to be alarming among the cholera patients at quarantine. The disease is of a very virulent type. Some die in a very few hours after being seized.

The ship Eugene, just arrived from Hamburg, reports 20 deaths on the passage, and 11 died on the steamship Herman from Bremen.

Markets.

NEW YORK, June 5.

Cotton quiet at 37@39. Sales for the week, 7,000 bales. Receipts, for the same time, from all quarters, 15,000 bales. Exports to all points in same time, 14,000 bales. Gold 142¾. Exchange unchanged. Texas wool, 20@25.

U. S. Court—Mr. Davis.

RICHMOND, June 4.

No Court to-day,—Underwood not arrived.

Eminent lawyers express the opinion that the adjournment of the Circuit Court from Norfolk to Richmond, after the indictment of Mr. Davis, was unauthorized by law, and hence that the order for adjournment is a nullity. If this view be correct, the only action of the Court will be to discharge the grand jury.

Under the recent act of Congress, the Chief Justice may order a special term to be held in Richmond, before which the trial may be demanded or motion for bail submitted, but no such order has been issued.

The Fenians.

BUFFALO, June 4.

All quiet to-day. Among the Fenians, captured were Cols. O'Neil, Farr and others. They had with them the British colors captured in the battle of Ridgway. A British officer on board the steamer Michigan demanded them, but O'Neil declined to give them up, as he surrendered unconditionally to Gen. Barry, U. S. A.

Gen. Sweeney passed Watertown, with 150 Fenians, going North.

Congress.

SENATE.—The Post Master General has sent a communication to the Senate against the proposed plan of uniting the telegraph lines with the postal system. He says, "as the result of my investigation, I do not think it wise for the government to inaugurate the proposed system, not only because of its doubtful financial success, but its questionable feasibility under our political system."

The fourth and fifth sections of the Reconstruction resolutions passed by a two-thirds vote. The Radicals voted down several amendments proposed by the Conservatives. Mr. Hendricks reviewed the proceedings and pronounced them to be extraordinary, unwise, unjust and declared that the people would never endorse them.—They were born in a caucus. The propositions were for the political necessities of party, and not for the interests of the country. The Senate adjourned, without final action.

HOUSE.—The resolution of Mr. Williams was taken up, calling upon the President to inform the House whether any government employees in the South have in any way countenanced public honors to living or dead Confederates; also whether the privilege of honoring the graves of Union soldiers had been in any instance denied by the authorities, with the acquiescence of the officers of the government.—The resolution was passed through by the gag.—Raymond and others being refused the privilege of debate. The statement of Williams is based upon an article in the Loyal Georgian of August last.

Mr Lawrence introduced resolutions providing for temporary territorial governments.—Mr. Lincoln's resolutions to restore to the States lately in insurrection their political rights, was discussed and laid over until Wednesday. Mr. Marshall presented credentials of representatives elected in Mississippi, which were referred to reconstruction committee.

Heavy Damages—Cholera—European Intelligence.

NEW YORK, June 4.

In the case of Lamb et als. vs the Camden & Amboy R. R., for cotton burned on the Company's pier in this city, the Jury have rendered a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $81,000.

Cholera still prevails at quarantine,—twelve more deaths.

The latest foreign intelligence states that France, England and Russia are arranging the terms of a note to send to Vienna, Berlin, Frankfort and Florence. It is hardly hoped that the Conference will accomplish any peaceful results.

OUT AT LAST.—The Raleigh Standard, which has all along professed to be in favor of the President's policy, has come out in favor of the policy recently developed by the Radicals in the U. S. Senate. We are glad that the Standard has taken its stand, so that the loyal, Union-loving people of North Carolina will hereafter know where to find it. We had hoped that no public journal in the Southern States would ever take grounds in favor of the Radicals against the President, but we have been disappointed. The Standard is, so far as we know, the only one that has yet taken that ground, and we hope that it will continue to stand alone. It is difficult to understand what could have induced the Standard to take such a course, but probably it may be explained by further events.—Old North State.

LITTLE WOMAN.—Maria E. Nail, from Mocksville, Davie county, North Carolina, 20 years old, 18¾ inches in heighth, and weighing 17 pounds, arrived in this city Saturday evening, and, we understand, will give a series of receptions during the coming week. She is represented by those who have seen her to be one of the greatest curiosities of the age.—Lynchburg News.

ANOTHER COURT-MARTIAL.—A general court-martial has been ordered for the trial in Washington of the North Carolina Freedmen's Bureau officers, and such other officers as are now under arrest, or against whom charges have been made in connection with the bureau.

Have we a National Disease?

S. D. Wallace, Esq., President of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, [Aug. 30, 1865,] says: "It has been said that Dyspepsia is our national disease. However this may be, it caused me, long and severe suffering. Providentially a friend furnished me with a few boxes of the HEPATIC PILLS, and the use of them has perfected a cure. In my family they have been used frequently with eminent success. Among my acquaintances, many cases originating from diseased liver, have been relieved and cured by them. I regard them as an invaluable medicine, and take pleasure in forwarding this voluntary tribute."

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the so called remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box infl taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Uterous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

These Life-giving remedies are now given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

LIFE-GIVING PILLS!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering and re invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A VERY FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state.—To the young and middle-aged they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to vigor and make youth ever

An Eternal Spring!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show in one glorious fact, that magic that made it fair.

THESE FAMOUS REMEDIES

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity the offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed dose to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil!

COTTON GINS,

MANUFACTURED BY

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,

COLUMBUS, GA.

WE have received the manufacture of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore, represented by traveling agents, parties wishing our Gins, will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand, we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash, our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivalled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

W. G CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.

Columbus, Ga., April 24 60

We will give prompt attention to orders for the above celebrated Gins from any part of the State. The price is five dollars ($5) per Saw at the Factory, and five dollars for each Gin will only be charged to purchasers for transportation to this point.

WHITE SULPHUR AND CHALYBEATE SPRINGS.

THE UNDERSIGNED has the satisfaction of announcing to the public, that he has leased these celebrated Springs, and that they will be opened for the reception of visitors on the first day of June ensuing.

His arrangements are of that complete and extensive character, that he will be able to accommodate a large number of guests and to offer greater attractions than usual to those who may visit

This pleasant and healthful resort.

No trouble or expense will be spared to render his patrons comfortable and satisfied

The grounds are elegantly laid off, and the buildings are enlarged and improved.

He will have ICE, MILK, VEGETABLES, and all the substantials and delicacies of the table in profusion.

An ICE CREAM SALOON and SODA FOUNTAIN will be attached to the establishment, where those refreshments, as well as CONFECTIONERY, Fruits &c, can be always obtained.

The bar will be supplied with the finest liquors, and a billiard saloon and bowling alley, for amusement and exercise, be at the disposal of visitors.

The Medicinal Properties

Of the Sulphur water have been amply tested during many years by a large number of visitors, and its beneficial results strikingly displayed in the cure or relief of

Another Spring has been discovered in the vicinity of the establishment, an accurate scientific analysis of which [given below] proves that it is a valuable Chalybeate. It is a mild and gentle tonic, and in the opinion of the physicians who have examined it, and witnessed its effects in some cases during several seasons, must prove beneficial in Atonic Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Uterine, Nervous and Neuralgic Affections connected with Debility; and of especial service to persons living in malarious regions of country, whose blood has been robbed of its normal proportion of iron by repeated attacks of malarial fevers.

Persons travelling on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad will always find a line of stages, under the management of Mr Granger, ready for their accommodation at Warrenton Depot. There will be a daily mail from Warrenton to the Springs.

—READ.—

The undersigned, Agent of the ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY for the State of North Carolina, would respectfully inform those who represent deceased friends, insured in this Company, to apply at my office for the settlement of Policies, as soon as they can consistently and conveniently do so.

MR. JUSTUS KINSEY'S death has been announced in our community. He was one of our most worthy citizens and active business men, and took the precaution, in time, to provide for his now sorrowing loved ones by an insurance on his life for $5,000 in the gallant "Ætna," which has never refused to pay a loss promptly. And in this case the persons entitled to receive the amount will please present themselves and the policy at my office for payment.

Here we are furnished with an example of prudent forethought worthy of imitation by each and all who have hearts to love, and hands to provide for their dependent loved ones. The investment of $150 has provided in cash for this family.

No man should neglect a transaction so important.
